

SHARING INFORMATION ABOUT YOU AND YOUR EXPERIENCE WITH RAILWAY CHILDREN

We often like to tell our funders and supporters about the young people we work with, such as why we are supporting you, what we do and how this has helped you. This might be by writing about our work together, sharing feedback you have given us, or sharing a picture of work created with your worker.

WE MAKE SURE THAT THIS IS COMPLETELY ANONYMOUS.

We will never use your real name or say things that would let people know who you are. Your worker will ask you first before sharing anything you have created together.

WHO DO WE SHARE THIS WITH?

We share stories within our team – often during team meetings – about the work we do with the young people we support. This enables us to:

- support each other and learn new skills
- get ideas of how we can work better or engage other young people.

We like to share stories with other members of Railway Children staff who work in our fundraising department as this helps them understand the work we do and why it's important.

This helps them to write applications for more funding so we can work with more young people like you.

We also share stories with our funders (like Children in Need, The National Lottery) so they can understand what we did with the funding we received and how we used it to help young people. This might be within a meeting or in a written report.

We might also share information or stories with our supporters and members of the public to better explain the support we offer and encourage more young people to access our support. Examples of this might be sharing stories on social media, on leaflets or on our website.

Please tick the boxes over the page to let us know if you agree and are happy for us to share examples of the work we do together. You can also use the box at the end of the page to share any rules you have about how and with whom we can share this information.
